II. DEVELOPMENTS OF NOTE

National Capital Region

- District of Columbia: Health officials confirmed several cases of the Norovirus at Beauvoir, an elementary school on the grounds of the Washington National Cathedral. Officials closed school Friday and stated it will remain closed until after the Thanksgiving break during which time the school will be thoroughly cleaned. Link

United States

- Alabama: A sheriff was fatally shot while responding to a call at a gas station in the county of Hayneville, 20 miles southwest of Montgomery. An 18-year-old suspect is in custody. This is the fifth law enforcement officer of the state to die in the line of duty from gunfire in the past 11 months. Link
- Florida: Three people were killed after their vehicle collided with an Amtrak passenger train in Indiantown, north of West Palm Beach. No passengers aboard the train were injured. The cause of the crash is under investigation. Link

- Connecticut: During halftime of the Yale-Harvard football game, hundreds of protesters from both schools staged a sit-in to protest climate change. The protest delayed the game for 48 minutes. Police escorted most of the demonstrators off the field after the protest extended beyond halftime. Police arrested 20-30 people who remained on the field. This incident is one of the latest demonstrations from protesters demanding more aggressive action on climate change. Link

- Indiana: A sterilization failure of surgical equipment at Goshen Hospital prompted officials to alert more than 1,000 patients that they may have been exposed to hepatitis, HIV and other infectious diseases. The hospital said the risk of infection is low and is offering free testing for patients to determine if they are infected. Link

World

- Kenya: At least 29 people were killed in a landslide triggered by heavy rains in West Pokot County near the Ugandan border. The landslide caused enormous destruction to infrastructure like bridges and roads. An ongoing multi-agency rescue operation continues to account for those missing. Link
